

MINDFUL SELF-COMPASSION TRAINING COURSE - 1 - ONLINE SEPT-NOV 2022

--“EARLY BIRD” DISCOUNT UNTIL AUG 26..--

If you are continually judging and criticizing yourself while trying to be kind to others, you are drawing artificial boundaries and distinctions that only lead to feelings of separation and isolation

*--Dr. Kristin Neff, *The Proven Power of Being Kind To Yourself

Mindful Self-Compassion (MSC) is the ability to be present in the face of challenges and support ourselves in the same way we would support and encourage a good, loyal friend. MSC teaches principles and practices that enable participants to respond to difficult moments in their lives with kindness, care and understanding as well as being able to protect themselves and set limits. The program is very practical and includes many concrete skills you can apply in your daily life.

MSC builds on our basic resources as human beings. As a human being, each of us already has the capacity for kindness and resilience. MSC empowers participants to respond to the stresses and difficulties of their lives with a kind, connected presence. In this online course, participants will build skills with experiential exercises that they can apply in their daily lives.

The 9-session MSC program is scientifically-supported and based on the groundbreaking research and clinical work of Kristin Neff and Christopher Germer, two of the world’s leading experts on self-compassion. The program integrates cutting-edge understanding of human growth and thriving based on neuroscience, positive psychology and human development.

This version of MSC training program online includes 9 sessions on Sunday mornings:

- 8 core course sessions X 3 hours each (24 hours total) on Sundays at 9am Thailand time starting Sunday September 11, plus
- A 3-hour retreat session after the 5th session.

It’s proven to help! Published scientific research clearly demonstrates that self-compassion is strongly associated with increased resilience and emotional wellbeing, less anxiety, depression and stress, maintenance of healthy habits such as diet and exercise, and satisfying personal relationships. And it’s easier than you think.

Prior to registering, participants should plan to attend every session and practice mindfulness and self-compassion at least 20-30 minutes per day on their own throughout the program.

Program activities include meditation, short talks, experiential exercises, group discussion, and home practices. Please look at MSC as an experiential training and not a class. The main goal is for participants to directly experience self-compassion and learn practices that evoke self-compassion in daily life.

Who can participate?: Any adult located in the Asia-Pacific region is welcome to register. No previous experience with mindfulness or meditation is required

“Self-love is crucial for loving others ... What is love? Love is treating your heart with a great deal of tenderness, with understanding, love, and compassion. If you cannot treat your own heart this way, how can you treat your partner with understanding and love?”

— Thich Nhat Hanh
